Joshua was in trouble due to his bedroom being a mess. His mum had told him he he must have a spotless room before she returned home from work.

He made his bed after his mum had gone off to work. His basketball was on top of the rug so he placed it back in his toy box. He put some new tape on his poster since the corner was peeling off the wall. Then it was time to tackle his bookcase. He straightened up each book following a quick sort out of the books he no longer wanted to keep. The damp towel over the telescope was put in the washing basket. The dirty cup near his computer was returned to the kitchen. Finally, he picked up the many screwed up bits of paper around his bedroom and put them in the bin. He had to quickly finish the last task due to his mum's return.
