

Sequencing Sentences

1. Tick the box to show where the sentence below could fit.

“Why are you up so early?” asked her mum with confusion.

On Wednesday morning, Lucy was up
A
 and ready for work before her alarm went off. She was preparing her breakfast when she heard a loud gasp from behind.

B

C

VF

4. Ronaldo has written some sentences.

In the meantime, Mr Blackwell was handing out the rounders bibs to different students. After walking to the sports hall with miserable faces, they were told to complete 5 laps of the hall. They moaned and groaned while getting changed. It was the last lesson of the week and many of the students of Mr. Blackwell's class were too tired for PE.

Are the sentences written in a logical order? Explain your answer fully.

R

2. Which passage has ordered the sentences correctly?

A. As he was riding his bicycle up the hill, Dean could feel his heartbeat increase rapidly. Surprisingly, he was out of breath rather quickly. However, he didn't give up. His legs worked harder than ever to reach the top of the steep pathway.

B. After registration, she explained to her class what they will be doing. Mrs Mountain was preparing for a science experiment. She went to the store cupboard to gather all the equipment for her students.

VF

5. Write a sentence that can be added to the end of the passage below.

Shahid was preparing for his university exams. He was studying to become a lawyer. He found it difficult to concentrate at home due to the noise his family made, and, as such, he spent most of his time studying at the library.

A

3. Number the sentences in the correct order.

A. When the doctor assessed her, she was asked to breathe in and out.

B. After the appointment, she went to the pharmacy to collect her medicine.

C. She immediately rang her surgery for a doctor's appointment.

D. On Thursday morning, Carla woke up with a strange pain in her chest.

VF

6. Replace the underlined sentence with an alternative sentence that would also make sense.

Danny had a passion for interior design. He travelled the world to see the various different historical, traditional and modern styles. He used this experience to build his own business within his home city. His business had become very popular as a result of his experience and passion.

A

Sequencing Sentences

1. C
2. A
3. D; C; A; B
4. No, the sentences are not written in a logical order because the actions have been described incorrectly. Students would normally get changed before they walk to the sports hall and complete their warm up and the bibs would be handed out after they had got changed and walked to the sports hall.
5. Various answers, for example: The quiet atmosphere of the library enabled him to revise well for his exams.
6. Various answers, for example: He created his own business using the inspiration from his travels.