

Synonyms

Rewrite the paragraph below, swapping at least ten words for appropriate synonyms.

Colin the cowboy was a lively person who was always nice to the people in his village. Each day, he would go to the ranch to look after his big, friendly horses. They had taken part in lots of rodeos with Colin and had won some great prizes. Colin often rode the horses across the big hills near his ranch. He liked to find nice places to stop and look at the views. From the top of the hills, he would watch the pretty sunset across the valley before returning to his ranch.

Colin the cowboy was an enthusiastic person who was always pleasant to the people in his village. Each day, he would drive to the ranch to look after his big, gentle horses. They had competed in several rodeos with Colin and had won some awesome prizes. Colin often galloped the horses across the enormous hills near his ranch. He liked to find beautiful places to stop and admire the views. From the top of the hills, he would watch the beautiful sunset across the valley before returning to his ranch.